

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE 20

U.S NEWS & WORLD REPORT
9 May 1983

Washington Whispers.

American security officials winced when Charles Wick, an old Reagan friend and head of the U.S. Information Agency, told a Japanese newspaper that Soviet spies have infiltrated the upper echelons of every Western government and Japan. It's true, officials sigh, but they wish Wick had not advertised to the Russians just how much Washington knows.